WHERE TO EAT AND DRINK IN JERSEY CITY ACCORDING TO #INSTAMEETJC

This past Saturday Taste The Style and Trends on Trends co-hosted an InstaMeet in Jersey City, and, if we do say so ourselves, it was awesome. The idea was to shed some VSCO filtered light on this burgeoning but often overlooked neighborhood, to let it be known that there's delicious food and drink to be had here, and to show people that it's really not that far away.

To make things interesting we set it up as scavenger hunt/food and drink crawl. The day before the meetup each guest received a clue to riddle out that revealed the meetup restaurant. From there we gave out more clues to more JC restaurants, pens and notebooks by Poppin for doodling and riddle solving, and a whole lotta food and drink.

So, here's where we went and here's what happens when you give a bunch of Instagram fiends a ton of Instagrammable goodies to work with....

No Instameet would be complete without dessert, and in JC there's no place better than Choc O Pain to satisfy your sweet tooth. But since we were all exhausted from a long day of gramming, the crew over at Choc O Pain was kind enough to bring their gluten free chocolates cakes straight to our party at Dullyboy. Thanks guys, for accommodating our laziness!

Search the hashtag #InstameetJC for the rest of the awesome instas from the event, but then just go to Jersey City already and snap a few for yourself.
